

I was born and raised in South Florida. I attended Nova Southeastern University College of Osteopathic Medicine and graduated in 2018. I then went on to complete my anesthesia residency at Jackson Memorial Hospital/University of Miami in 2022; serving as chief resident during my CA-3 year. After residency I decided to stay at the University of Miami for my fellowship in adult cardiothoracic anesthesia. After fellowship I am now working as a cardiac anesthesiologist at Baptist Health South Miami Hospital. I have a particular interest in perioperative transesophageal echocardiography and implementation of mechanical circulatory support. During my free time I enjoys playing basketball, outdoor walks with my dogs, and skiing in the winter months.
