Welcome!

The American Osteopathic College of Anesthesiologists welcomes you to join us through the Corporate Support program.

AOCA is positioned to provide you the opportunity to reach, with significant face time, a unique audience of leaders and influencers who are at the forefront of the practice of anesthesia and pain medicine.

Our members are excited to see and experience the latest and greatest and to be among the first in their groups to introduce these innovations to their team.

Michael Fabbro, DO, FAOCA
Strategic Support Committee Chair

Ursula Landman, DO, FAOCA
AOCA President

About AOCA

Anesthesiologists are physicians completing four years of residency training. Physicians attend either osteopathic medical schools (D.O.) or allopathic medical schools (M.D.) prior to completing an anesthesiology residency.

The members of the AOCA practice across the nation in academic and community hospitals. Their interests include general anesthesia, pain management, critical care, regional, cardiothoracic, pediatric and obstetrical anesthesia. Osteopathic anesthesiologists embrace the principles of patient well-being and approach the whole patient to promote health and healing during the perioperative period.

All anesthesiologists are invited to attend AOCA events.

AOCA: Big Names, Bigger Insights!

AOCA's commitment to excellence ensures a lineup of dynamic speakers who inspire, educate, and elevate the experience for all participants. AOCA has a longstanding reputation for bringing in nationally recognized presenters who are leaders in their fields to speak at their Annual Convention.
